

NOTICE OF ERRATA

Defendant and Counterclaimant Raj Abhyanker hereby submits a Notice of Errata for his Supplemental Statement Regarding His Prior Use and Common Law Rights in the NEXTDOOR Trademark (“Supplemental Statement”). The Supplemental Statement inadvertently ommitted a screenshot from Exhibit C. In addition, as a result of a typographical error, Paragraph 6 of the Supplemental Statement inadvertently stated that “the source code for eDirectree, which has been produced in this action, confirms the use of the Nextdoor name in database structures originating in 2008.” While the source code confirms the use of the Nextdoor name, it is the Fatdoor name that is reflected in database structures originating in 2008.

Mr. Abhyanker submits as Exhibit 1 the Corrected Supplemental Statement Regarding His Prior Use and Common Law Rights in the NEXTDOOR Trademark. Exhibit 1 corrects the original Exhibit C. Exhibit 1 also changes Paragraph 9 to reflect that some of the networking prototypes in Exhibit C were made public. In addition, Exhibit 1 corrects the above-referenced error in Paragraph 9.

3 On September 26, 2013, Defendant and Counterdefendant Raj Abhyanker filed a Motion
4 for Leave to File a Second Amended Answer and Counterclaims. ECF No. 115. Among other 5 things, Mr. Abhyanker sought leave to add his Third Counterclaim for Infringement of an 6 Unregistered Trademark. ECF No. 132, Ex. A. More specifically, Mr. Abhyanker's Third
7 Counterclaim asserts that Nextdoor.com's unauthorized use of the NEXTDOOR trademark
8 infringes Mr. Abhyanker's common law rights in his NEXTDOOR and FATDOOR trademarks.
9 Id.

10 On December 12, 2013, this Court granted Mr. Abhyanker's Motion for Leave and 11 deemed the Second Amended Answer and Counterclaims filed. ECF No. 136. Subsequently, 12 during the Case Management Conference held on December 12, 2013, this Court requested that 13 Mr. Abhyanker file a supplemental statement setting forth Mr. Abhyanker's allegations regarding 14 his use of the NEXTDOOR mark, as well as any relevant exhibits.<sup>1</sup> ECF No. 137.

15 Pursuant to this Court's request, Mr. Abhyanker hereby provides the following 16 supplemental allegations relating to his Third Counterclaim asserting that Nextdoor.com has 17 infringed his common law rights in the NEXTDOOR trademark:

18 SUPPLEMENTAL ALLEGATIONS

19 1. Mr. Abhyanker conceived of, selected, adopted, and used the NEXTDOOR
20 trademark long before Nextdoor.com's first (and infringing) use of the NEXTDOOR trademark.
21 In this regard, Nextdoor.com's earliest priority date will be February 8, 2011, if its federal 22 trademark application registers, or October 26, 2011 when Nextdoor.com publicly launched its 23 website. Attached as Exhibit A is a true and correct copy of a printout from the U.S. Patent and 24 Trademark Office's database showing February 8, 2011 as the filing date for Nextdoor.com's
25 federal trademark application Serial No. 85/236,918. Attached as Exhibit B is a true and correct 26

27 <sup>1</sup> Mr. Abhyanker's Third Counterclaim also asserts that Nextdoor.com's unauthorized use of the NEXTDOOR 28 trademark infringes his common law rights in his FATDOOR trademark. However, the Court's request for supplemental allegations pertains only to Mr. Abhyanker's common law NEXTDOOR trademark.

1 copy of an October 26, 2011 press release on Nextdoor.com's website confirming that 2 Nextdoor.com publicly launched its website on October 26, 2011.

3       2. On or around August 2005—more than five years before Nextdoor.com made its 4 first unauthorized use of the infringing NEXTDOOR mark, Mr. Abhyanker first used the 5 NEXTDOOR trademark in connection with neighborhood walking maps to unite and organize 6 neighbors and communities with regard to community and local political issues and concerns. As 7 such, Mr. Abhyanker has priority in the NEXTDOOR trademark by virtue of the fact that his first 8 use predates Nextdoor.com's first use by more than five years.

9       3. There are numerous recipients, consumers, and end users of those walking maps
 10 who can substantiate and testify to Mr. Abhyanker's use of the NEXTDOOR trademark in 2005 11 in connection with neighborhood walking maps. These witnesses include, but are not limited to,
 12 the following individuals: Raj Abhyanker, Donna Austin, Ned Britt, Jeff Drazan, Ruby Elbogen, 13 Tomas Hugunin, Suresh Krishnamurthy, Patrick Kwok, Div Harish, Richard Lowenthal, Orrin
 14 Mahoney, Mahesh Nihalani, Ram Gopal, Sri Ram, Kris Wang, Virginia Tamblyn, Dennis 15 Whittaker, Babar Rana, Alex Gault, and Gilbert Wong.

16       4. One or more of the witnesses identified in Paragraph 3 above are likely to have 17 retained possession of one or more copies of Mr. Abhyanker's neighborhood walking maps
 18 featuring the NEXTDOOR trademark.

19       5. In addition, there are numerous recipients, consumers, and end users who can 20 testify to Mr. Abhyanker's use of the NEXTDOOR trademark in 2006-2007 in connection with 21 private neighborhood social networking alpha websites initially built and publicly prototyped in 22 October 2006 by Raj Abhyanker, Ankur Verma, and Sandeep Sood as 'Nextdoor' on interim 23 domains www.nextyard.com and www.nextlawn.com, and on publicly accessible IP addresses on 24 servers hosted by Ankur Verma and Sandeep Sood. These sites were later rebuilt by Raj 25 Abhyanker and Chandu Thota as Fatdoor. Witnesses related to this use includes, but is not 26 limited to, the following individuals: Raj Abhyanker, Ankur Verma, Babar Rana, Sandeep Sood, 27 Donna Austin, Mahesh Nihalani, Suresh Krishnamurthy, Richard Lowenthal, Orrin Mahoney,
 28 Jeff Drazan, Chandu Thota, Duncan Beatty, Alessandro Biral, Dr. Hector Garcia-Molina, Alex

1 Gault, Dan Hansen, Bill Harris, Chi-Hua Chien, Anand Hattiangadi, Michael Johnstone, Jon
 2 Love, Emily McIntire, Sergio Monsalve, Rajeev Patel, Chris Warfield, Jessie Suen, Paul
 3 Zahorsky, Tim Connors, Salil Desphande, Lauren Gelman, Geoff Yang, Peter Krasilovsky, Tara
 4 Lemmey, Michael Madison, Sachin Maheshwari, Matt Marshall, Pankaj Mathur, Seema Mehta,
 5 Andreas Paepcke, Vishal Shah, Andreas Stravropoulos, Mark Santoro, Sri Ram, Ned Britt, Jeff
 6 Drazan, Ruby Elbogen, Tomas Hugunin, Suresh Krishnamurthy, Patrick Kwok, Warren Myer, 7 Kris Wang, Dennis Whittaker, and Gilbert Wong.

8       6. There are numerous recipients, consumers, and end users who can testify to Mr.
 9 Abhyanker's use of the NEXTDOOR trademark from 2008-2013 in connection with eDirectree
 10 and EatBid websites initially built by Raj Abhyanker. These witnesses include, but are not 11 limited to, the following individuals: Raj Abhyanker, Chandu Thota, Jennifer Dulski, Andy Mai, 12 Dongxia Liu, Jeff Drazan, and Kalyan Ayyagari. Furthermore, the source code for eDirectree, 13 which has been produced in this action, confirms the use of the Nextdoor name.

14       7. On or around September 2008—three years before Nextdoor.com's first use of the 15 NEXTDOOR trademark, Mr. Abhyanker expanded his use of the NEXTDOOR trademark to the 16 edirectree website. The prominently advertised NEXTDOOR neighbors feature on the 17 edirectree.com offered users a way to enter their addresses and zip codes and to create manual 18 and automatic groups in relation to users' neighborhoods based on users' interests, locations, and 19 statuses. Attached as Exhibit D is a true and correct copy of a printout from the edirectree
 20 website, which shows how Mr. Abhyanker used his NEXTDOOR trademark years before 21 Nextdoor.com made its first unauthorized and infringing use of NEXTDOOR.

22       8. In addition, in 2010, Mr. Abhyanker formulated plans to use the Nextdoor mark on 23 a new Cupertino based gastronomic bidding neighborhood social networking and commerce site.
 24 He attempted to purchase the Nextdoor.com domain for that purpose, and again informed 25 Sandeep Sood of his intention to acquire that domain. On or around February 2012, Mr.
 26 Abhyanker began using his NEXTDOOR trademark on the eatbid.com website. Mr. Abhyanker 27 used the NEXTDOOR trademark on the eatbid.com website in connection with services that 28 allowed users to place bids to purchase food at local restaurants in a geographically constrained

1 neighborhood area based on zip code, and connect with like-minded neighbors. Revenue from 2 users was collected through this EatBid/Nextdoor website for restaurants in the city of Cupertino
3 through an online payment gateway. The site included features such as a marketplace for 4 neighbors to sell goods to other neighbors. Attached as Exhibit E is a true and correct copy of a
5 printout from the eatbid.com website showing his use of the NEXTDOOR trademark. Because 6 he was not able to obtain the domain name because of competitive bidding by the Plaintiff, Mr.
7 Abhyanker purchased the eatbid.com and later nextdoor.cm domain names as placeholders and 8 used the NEXTDOOR trademark on websites hosted on those domains. Attached as Exhibit F is 9 a true and correct copy of a printout from the nextdoor.cm website showing his use of the 10 NEXTDOOR trademark.

11       9. In summary, in addition to his use of the NEXTDOOR trademark in connection 12 with neighborhood walking maps since at least as early as August 2005, Mr. Abhyanker also 13 began developing plans for a neighborhood social networking site branded under the 14 NEXTDOOR trademark. Attached as Exhibit C are true and correct copies of mockup 15 screenshots and user interfaces of Mr. Abhyanker's NEXTDOOR neighborhood social 16 networking prototype site from 2006, some of which were later made public. Since at least as 17 early as fall 2006, Mr. Abhyanker began soliciting investors and promoting this concept to third 18 parties, including venture capital firm Benchmark Capital. It is not surprising that then 19 Abhyanker described the name 'nextdoor.com' as the name of his neighborhood social network in 20 U.S. and foreign patent applications listing Mr. Abhyanker as the sole inventor filed early as 21 October 2006, and a 2007 Wikipedia entry mentioning Abhyanker's association with the 22 Nextdoor name (Exhibit G).

23       10. In summary, Mr. Abhyanker clearly made commercial trademark use of the 24 NEXTDOOR mark years prior to Nextdoor.com's first unauthorized infringing use of 25 NEXTDOOR on October 26, 2011.

Nextdoor Launches the First Private Social Network for Neighborhoods

Successful Pilot Program Proves Value of Bringing Back a Sense of Community to the Neighborhood

San Francisco, California, October 26, 2011 - Nextdoor (www.nextdoor.com (<https://www.nextdoor.com>)), the first private social network for neighborhoods, announced today the nationwide availability of its free online platform specifically designed to foster neighbor-to-neighbor communication. Starting now, neighborhoods across the country can take advantage of this new type of social networking service to build happier, safer places to call home.

On Nextdoor, neighbors create private websites for their neighborhoods where they can ask questions, get to know one another and exchange local advice and recommendations. Topics of discussion are as varied as local events, school activities, plumber and babysitter recommendations, recent crime activity, upcoming garage sales or even lost pets. Unlike an email listserv or other online group, neighbor posts are organized and archived for future reference.

"We 'friend' more people than ever and 'follow' strangers we've never met, yet we don't have a good way to communicate with the people who live right next door," said Nirav Tolia, CEO and Co-founder of Nextdoor. "There are many ways our neighbors can help us, but these days people don't know their neighbors, or how to contact them. Nextdoor was created to change that."

Nextdoor was specifically designed to make neighbors feel comfortable sharing information with one another. All members must verify that they live within the neighborhood. Information shared on Nextdoor is password-protected and cannot be accessed by those outside the neighborhood or found on Google or other search engines. And Nextdoor never shares personal information with any third parties.

"Nextdoor is different from other social networking sites because it was built from the ground up to help neighbors come together in a trusted environment," said Bill Gurley, General Partner of Benchmark Capital and board member of Nextdoor. "We have been blown away by the positive response to Nextdoor and believe it is a natural evolution of social networking that will demonstrate the value of building community to neighborhoods everywhere."

Nextdoor recently completed a successful pilot program where neighbors in over 200 neighborhoods across 26 states established Nextdoor websites with the goal of creating more connected and safer places to call home. The pilot program clearly proved how neighbors can use Nextdoor to bring back a sense of community to their neighborhood.

Anne Clauss, Nextdoor member in Hamilton, New York

"Our neighborhood dynamics have improved significantly since we launched Nextdoor - the collaboration between neighbors has showered an unprecedented feeling of community upon us. Nextdoor takes the best of social media, adds a spoonful of intimacy, and envelopes it in a blanket of privacy and comfort."

Brent Bamberger, Nextdoor member in Orinda, California

"Since Nextdoor, we finally feel like a neighborhood. Our communication has become more frequent, open and helpful. We've seen lost pets get returned in minutes; unwanted ping pong tables finding new homes in a matter of posts; and a heightened sense of security throughout the neighborhood when a recent crime wave hit."

Nicole Perkins, Nextdoor member in Woodside, California

"The value of Nextdoor hit close to home when a teenager was diagnosed with meningitis. His parents used Nextdoor to alert everyone in the community to this life-threatening situation and get other kids tested immediately. The ability to broadcast the news through Nextdoor very likely saved other lives."

Those interested in joining their neighborhood's Nextdoor website can visit www.nextdoor.com (<https://www.nextdoor.com>) and enter their address. If Nextdoor is available in their area, they can immediately sign up. If a Nextdoor website has not yet been established for their area, active and engaged neighbors are invited to apply to bring Nextdoor to their neighborhood.

About Nextdoor.com, Inc.

Nextdoor (www.nextdoor.com (<//nextdoor.com>)) is a private social network for the neighborhood. Using Nextdoor's free online platform, neighbors create private neighborhood websites where members can ask questions, get to know one another and exchange local advice and recommendations. Nextdoor is specifically designed to provide a trusted environment for neighbor-to-neighbor communication. Hundreds of neighborhoods are already using Nextdoor to build happier, safer places to call home.
